TIPS FOR WALKERS

Make sure you have the correct footwear

Walk tall with concentration on your posture i.e. don't slouch,

Start slow, build up pace, maintain ability to hold a conversation

After walking loosen off with spine rotations and shaking out arms and legs then hold calf, hamstring and quad stretches

Have a couple of days rest. Aim to walk/exercise 5 days a week, starting little and often, increasing distance walked and reducing frequency. You are likely to suffer muscle aches, listen to your body, if you are suffering take an extra days rest, if hurting – especially lower back, hips, knees, shins and ankles ice any inflamed areas and if it persists seek medical advise

Pick varied walks taking in up and down hills

Make sure you drink plenty of fluids and if wanting to lose some inches with this increase your protein for muscle recovery i.e chicken, fish, meat & eggs are great sources, also increase your green leafy veg for higher levels of calcium and iron for bones and immune system and drink plenty of water
